

Carolee Schneemann

has used film, video, painting, photography, performance art and installation works to transform the definition of art, especially discourse on the body, sexuality, and gender. She has exhibited nationally and internationally, and been published widely; new publications include Imaging Her Erotics.

March 21
7 p.m. Shaffer 121

Vienna Teng is a San Francisco based singer and songwriter who has already released two critically acclaimed independent albums. She has appeared on the Late Show with David Letterman and toured widely, opening for such artists as Shawn Colvin, Joan Osborne, Joan Baez and the Indigo Girls.

February 28,
8 p.m. Jabberwocky

Community Art Show
March 17-22
Opening Reception
March 20 5 p.m. (Th3)
Spark Art Space

The Guerrilla Girls

use facts, humor and outrageous visuals to expose sexism, racism and corruption in politics, art, film and pop culture. They've appeared at countless universities and museums in recent years, as well as in The New York Times, Artforum and more; on NPR, the BBC and CBC; and in many art and feminist texts. They will talk about their work, their philosophy of activism, and their campaign against the appalling lack of ethics in the art world.

March 7
7 p.m.
Shemin Auditorium

Tina Takemoto

has presented her installation based performances internationally, which discuss themes including contemporary art, visual culture, gender and queer theory, Asian American studies, and theories of illness, trauma, and grief. She currently works as Associate Professor at the California College of the Arts.

March 1
8 p.m. Jabberwocky

Nina Katchadourian's

art exists in a wide variety of media including photography, sculpture, video and sound. She subtly and obsessively collects, organizes and interprets data from the world around her, creating new views of communication, geography, and our natural surroundings. Nina has exhibited both domestically and internationally.

March 3, Shaffer 121 7 p.m.
March 4, 2 p.m. Shemin Aud.

17th annual Matrilineage Symposium

Presented by the Committee on Women and Art

Cosponsors: Pulse, Orange Night Live, CVPA Art and Design Foundation Department, Student Association, Graduate Student Organization, U.Encounter, Department of Transmedia Core and the Art Video program, Women's Studies, MEISA, Sculpture Department, Fine Arts Department, Communications and Rhetorical Studies, Honors Program, Dean of Students Office, Diversity Programming Grant, Museum Studies